

TAMARA J. GILMORE

For those who had the pleasure to know and love Tamara, all would agree, she was life personified. Family and Friends regard her as being forward-thinking, sincere and a diamond in the rough. Sadly, in 1999 at the tender age of 31, Tamara passed away – she was an inspiration to everyone in her presence and most certainly a rising star. Tamara was an accomplished business professional and Entrepreneur within the Hospitality Industry, respected for her passion, focus and commitment to her company Every Last Detail. In honor of her legacy, the Tamara J. Gilmore Scholarship Fund was formed in 2009, the first of it's kind for women of color at Temple University. In the words of her strong and lovely mother; Tamara's spirit, memory and legacy lives on in all of us.
